This is a great book for intermediate recorder or violin players who might enjoy playing with a friend. It includes 25 lovely arrangements for two instruments of familiar melodies by Bach, many of them from the Little Note Book of Anna Magdalena Bach.

I'm really enjoying this book. It leads off w/ the Bouree in E Minor which is pretty well known and not too difficult to play. I'm not a huge classical music buff so I can't say "This has all my favorites!" but it does have a bunch I like. I also like the progression of songs. They add a little bit more each time to work on. Don't buy this if you're afraid of practicing the second octave on the recorder. You will be hitting the high B in the very first song. All the songs are duets for two C recorders though I've found it's easier to use the Alto in F w/ some of the accompaniment because of some wonky accidentals that are tricky on C recorders. This isn't a beginners book. Again, I would say if you can hit that high B you're probably ready for this.

I really love these arrangements. I have been studying Bach all of my musical life, for the past thirty years. These duets would also work for two trumpets or clarinets, perhaps french horns, etc. . . . They are not terribly difficult and though they have have been simplified from the original arrangements, they have been doing in tasteful way that makes them worthy of being performed professionally. This is a great addition to anyone's baroque course of study and performance materials. I plan to use them in church and for also teaching future students. Thanks Hal Leonard!

Easy to play, but not too easy for a beginner as myself. Each song has the voice and the companion, and I record one part and then play both.
